"Selling our house:

The decision to buy a new house was not something we were really planning at the time. Lisa has been extremely supportive and helpful from the very beginning. She has made what would have been a totally stressful event very enjoyable. She has gone out of her way to support the process of selling our home from the get go—and we sold in no time! It really helped to have someone as professional and knowledgeable as Lisa right there with us. We wouldn't have wanted to do it without her.
